Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Thursday 16 Sep 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Fine and dry for most.

Today:
Fog patches soon clearing, then most parts dry with broken cloud and sunny spells. An isolated light shower is possible. Feeling warm in light winds, especially in the south and east. Turning wet and windy in the far northwest later.

Tonight:
Windy in the northwest with spells of rain across Northern Ireland and Scotland. Dry with clear spells in the south and east, with some patchy low cloud and fog forming.

Friday:
Western areas cloudy with outbreaks of rain moving slowly east, heavy in places. Dry across central and eastern parts with broken cloud and sunny spells after early fog clears.

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Cloudy initially for most with rain at times. Showers may be heavier in the south at times over the weekend but the will be brighter periods too with some sunshine.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.